Westlake Village, CA 91361 USA

EMAIL: gconfer@cheetah.com

PHONE: 805.373.7111 ex: 301

WEBSITE: www.cheetah.com

COMPANY DESCRIPTION: Cheetah is one of the world's most advanced operational dynamic logistics platform. It is the only operations solution that not only plans delivery routes, but also predicts extremely accurate arrival times as it adapts, live and automatically, to changing operational conditions. These changes include traffic, weather, accidents, customer cancellations, new stop-insertion and driver exceptions. The Cheetah optimization engines receive real-time events like GPS while tracking all drivers in its operational network allowing its optimization engines to seamlessly guide the driver through every step of the process. Customers, Store Managers and Corporate have a real time, live view of the entire network and its delivery performance for all its customers, allowing companies to be operationally proactive rather than reactive. The Cheetah platform utilizes street network data from multiple sources including TomTom, Google and its own network in order to calculate the travel time between stops while incorporating historical traffic analytics. Google Live Traffic data and Cheetah's live dynamic re-optimization occur continuously with every live changing event on the road, resulting in pinpoint operational accuracy. The Cheetah platform has been successfully integrated with its customer's enterprise technology platforms that support hotshot deliveries. These enterprise customers include the likes of FedEx, Macy's, JS Logistics, Ward Trucking, Central Freight and Cardinal Health. These system integrations incorporate a variety of operational systems like corporate point of sale, e-commerce, WMS, TMS and accounting production systems to synchronize the entire end-to-end process. Sophisticated routing algorithms, system flexibility, a plethora of data sources and live, adaptive automation makes Cheetah the most advanced and efficient practical logistics platform in the market today that delivers in the shortest time possible to customers for the lowest operating cost.

Cheetah is working with Key Software Systems and eCourier to provide additional options for using the Cheetah Platform.. Cheetah is the only Platform that allows its customers to do more with less, on time.

COMPANY DESCRIPTION: Contractor Management Services (CMS) is the leading provider of services and technology that eliminate the burdens of payment processing, back-office administration and managing compliance workflows for companies utilizing the services of Independent Contractors. We help you take a proactive approach to challenges surrounding misclassification, incorporating best business practices, and additionally provide the needed legal and insurance support. Our modern platform combines SaaS technology and workflow expertise to help our clients manage and demonstrate compliance with the complex state and federal regulations associated with Independent Contractors that are providing services, all while providing valuable back-office solutions for Independent Contractors to manage their businesses. CMS also provides tools, resources, and support for Independent Contractors to improve their business operations. ICs manage prescreening, onboarding, negotiation, invoicing, authorizing business expenses, electronic payment, and other value-added services via secure portal access to our system. For more information, visit www.ictherightway.com.

CMS technology and services assists in greatly reducing exposure to legal challenges by properly documenting the true business-to-business contractual relationship between Independent Contractors and contracting companies. Reducing risk, increasing profitability and assisting with audits is the bedrock of the technology and is a powerful solution against the current threats now facing the Independent Contractor model.
